

New York Magazine

To Do: November 6–13, 2013

25 things to see, hear, watch, and read.

Art 8. See Diane Simpson A sculptor you ought to have encountered by now. This petite Lower East Side gallery just keeps getting better. Into its impressive lineup steps the underknown Chicago veteran Diane Simpson with finely crafted sculptural forms in unexpected materials, echoing kimonos, cowls, bonnets, bibs, and dresses. Simpson's sculptures hover like disembodied department-store mannequins and the ghosts of fashions past. —Jerry Saltz JTT, 170a Suffolk Street, through December 15.