

Perspective Gallery is pleased to announce our July exhibition, VICINITY. If you live close enough to travel to Evanston to drop off your artwork (if selected), then you live in the 'vicinity' for the purposes of this exhibit. All subject matter and photographic processes are welcome.

VICINITY 2020

JUROR: Jennifer Murray

Jennifer Murray is an artist, educator, and curator based in Chicago. She is the executive director of Filter Photo, a nonprofit festival, exhibition, and educational space. Her research and professional practice spans photography-based visual projects and curatorial projects. Her visual work utilizes both original images and photographic archives as she examines the cultural relationships and histories of objects. Recent curatorial projects include Furtive at the Chicago Cultural Center. Murray is a frequent curator, portfolio reviewer, and juror at photography events across the US including Aint-Bad Magazine, Photolucida's Critical Mass, LensCulture, SPE, and Filter Photo. She received an MFA in photography from Columbia College Chicago. She teaches at Loyola University Chicago and is an independent artists' consultant.
