"Marjorie Van Cura is driven by the ever-evolving realities of the present day. The culmination of thirty years of painting, Van Cura's recent landscape- based abstractions are inspired by pivotal moments in contemporary history as represented by an inescapable ubiquity of mass media."

"Untitled 0821" 2021, graphite and ink on translucent film, 14 x 17 inches

"Deeply impacted by environmental and sociological phenomena that continue to transform humanity, Van Cura pinpoints real life current events-based images that are striking in both conceptual paradox and aesthetic complexity, using them as a departure point for her densely-layered paintings. These works distill the familiar yet alarming urgency of the moment into a language that is graphic and expressionist, in order to create an entirely new and foreign space."
