

MARKET

Brian Boucher Picks His Top Booths at NADA Miami Beach

Brian Boucher, Thursday, December 3, 2015

Puppies Puppies at What Pipeline, NADA Miami Beach.

"We're going to get a sweater so you can show everyone your penis," a man said playfully to Los Angeles County Museum of Art curator Jarrett Gregory.

We were at NADA Miami Beach, the annual art fair organized by the New Art Dealers Alliance. It's just the kind of thing you hear at NADA. When I asked if I could quote the guy, he said, "Yes, but you have to use my nom de plume, which is Sam Falls." Falls is an artist.

Read on to find out what he was talking about, and about my picks for top booths and works at NADA.

Meredith James, Cuckoo 7 (Talking), 2015.
Photo Brian Boucher.

Meredith James at Jack Hanley, New York

Meredith James's tiny sculptures are inspired by cuckoo clocks that fascinated her as a child at her grandparents' home. When they downsized, she took the timepieces and extracted the birds, which she has reanimated with metronomes, preserving the relationship of the avian creatures with timekeeping. The metronomes cause the little creatures' wings to flap.